A remarkable route tackling the flake line right of Evidently Chickentown. Start up that route, following the chimney to the bulge at its crux. Step down and right for 3m to a ridiculous 1m<sup>2</sup> slab on the arête. Grasp the huge flake and bar relentlessly into the hanging groove. Ascend this to a large thread in the roofs above and almost in the centre of the arch itself. Lower off.

▶ 35. Instant Van Goch E5 6b ** 23m
